DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings have not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the figures.

Specification

3. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Election/Restrictions

4. Applicant's election without traverse of Species 1-A (claims 29, 66-70, 74, 76, and 136) in the reply filed on 28 September 2009 is acknowledged and appreciated.

Art Unit: 2629

5. Claims 19, 21-25, 31-33, 38, 61, 64, 77, 78, and 83 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 28 September 2009.

6. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 29, 66-70, 74, and 76, drawn to a control system (claim 29) and a computer readable storage medium (claims 66-70, 74, and 76), classified in class 345, subclass 163 (e.g., pointing unit products).

II. Claim 136, drawn to a control method, classified in class 715, subclass 764 (e.g., methods of controlling displayed objects).

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

7. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h).

Art Unit: 2629

(1) In the instant case, the process for using the product as claimed (in claim 136) can be practiced with another materially different product (than that of claim 29).

For example, the process as claimed (in claim 136) can be practiced with another materially different product (than that of claim 29) not including at least:

"a communication unit transmitting the position on the motion picture receiving a pointing manipulation to a server including a unit recognizing an object in the motion picture based on the position on the motion picture, and receiving, from said server, information on the object in the motion picture recognized by said server," as claimed in independent claim 29 (lines 6-9);

"a processing unit executing a predetermined process related to the object recognized," as claimed in independent claim 29 (lines 10-11); and

"wherein said processing unit makes said reproducing unit reproduce from said recording medium the image related to the object and makes said display device display the reproduced image.," as claimed in independent claim 29 (lines 12-14).

Additionally, the process for using the product as claimed (in claim 136) can be practiced with another materially different product (than that of claims 66-70, 74, and 76).

For example, the process as claimed (in claim 136) can be practiced with another materially different product (than that of claims 66-70, 74, and 76) not including at least:

"a computer readable storage medium embodying a program of instructions executable by a machine including a communication unit to control a display device including a display unit displaying a motion picture and a pointing unit pointing a position on the motion picture, to perform operations," as claimed in independent claim 66 (lines 1-4);

"transmitting the position on the motion picture receiving a pointing manipulation to a server including a recognizing unit recognizing an object in the motion picture receiving the pointing manipulation," as claimed in independent claim 66 (lines 5-7); and

"receiving, from said server, information on the object in the motion picture recognized by said server," as claimed in independent claim 66 (lines 8-9).

(2) In the instant case, the product as claimed (in claims _) can be used in a materially different process of using that product (than that of claim 136).

For example, the product as claimed (in claims _) can be used in a materially different process of using that product (than that of claim 136) without at least:

"recognizing an object in the motion picture on which the pointing manipulation is effected; and executing a predetermined process related to the object recognized, and wherein said display device includes a reproducing unit reproducing the motion picture recorded on a recording medium," as claimed in independent claim 136 (lines 4-7);

"said recording medium is recorded with a first motion picture and a second image related to an object corresponding to the first motion picture," as claimed in independent claim 136 (lines 8-9); and

"said predetermined process involves reproducing from said recording medium the second image related to the object recognized and making said display device display the reproduced second image," as claimed in independent claim 136 (lines 10-12).

Art Unit: 2629

8. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

9. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
